

July Is Picnic Season At Park

At Least 75,000 Persons Will Visit Park During This Month

It is anticipated that at least 75,000 persons will visit Cascade Park during picnic days this month as some of the largest outings in the history of the park have been arranged, according to Manager Shiner.

Among the large picnics will be the Veterans of Foreign Wars July 10 Orange Association, July 13, E. & A. division, P. R. R. July 14, K. of C. July 24, Shrine, July 25 and Consistory, July 31.

Other picnics scheduled are the Ellwood City Lodge, Newsboys, July 9, Order Eastern Star, July 11, Lutheran Association, July 18, Malta Association, July 20 and St. James, colored, July 22.

Large crowds have featured the park since its opening this season. New amusements and the Glenn pool have acted as magnets. There have been no accidents and the order of picnickers has been ideal.

said, and the increase in payrolls is reflected in the increasing business prosperity of the territory. The retail trade for May showed an increase of 4.4 per cent over that month last year and 1.4 per cent over the year to May 1, as compared with 1928.

Retail trade for June is expected to show an increase, Nevins said. A few lines of business are off, he said, yet employment conditions are reported good in the industrial sections and particularly in the steel industry.

Ordinarily June would show a let-down in all lines, Nevins said, because of the summer slump, but this was not apparent this year, with small sales shown.

July is expected to be a record breaking period, too, Nevins believes.

council will take to stop this will meet with the approbation of the players. Council erected the courts for all, not for a few.

The gardens at the various city playgrounds are beginning to take on midsummer beauty. The West Side garden is far ahead of the season. At the present time the profusion of dahlias plants are beginning to bloom, in fact several gorgeous blooms are in evidence. William Sibley, the caretaker gives all credit to the use of sludge from the city sewage disposal plant.

Two Missouri cars were noted down street this forenoon. They were not in a party but were separate travelers.

Evidently the July scramble for auto license plates is on. Pa Newc notes D-71-330 already. A local man purchased plates just five weeks ago and his number was one of the D-19's. Quite a jump.

The new state highway detour map is on The News bulletin board. The detour to East New Castle from the city line is listed in this week's issue of the map.

A new sport down on the South Side is horseshoe pitching which is said to be a strong sport for the boys of that district. This morning boys were seen at the game at an early hour.

Seems to Pa Newc that some of the merchant organizations make too much use of their own particular alley. We would imagine that the alley routes of the town should be kept open in much the same manner as the streets. Temporary blockades in the case of necessity is perfectly all right but there are others who hate to see one firm keep the alleys blocked day in and day out.

Pa Newc observed one motorist hold up a line of traffic and the street car several minutes on Washington street. The gentleman and his wife had stopped to converse with a friend.

Traffic throughout town and the county highways was surprisingly heavy Friday evening despite the fact that the big holiday was just over and the populace was not as yet rested up. Generally the day and evening after a holiday finds stagnation in the activity of every one.

Farmers of the county are having a set of educational meetings this week. Farm garden meetings have occurred, and next week, berry raisers will hear two state specialists. This work is carried on by the county bureau.

Just two weeks remain until the New Castle and Lawrence county boys leave for Europe the Boy Scout jamboree at Rickerhead, England. If you have friends in England, don't forget to send them word to call on the boys. If you happen to be on a tour or have any friends on tour in England at the time, make calls on the boys.

Thursday night's rain must have been general over north-western Pennsylvania. The Shenango River has risen over a foot and a half in the last two days, having reached a stage of 5.8 feet this morning.

Last night was a fairly warm one, the mercury only descending to 60. After almost two weeks of cool weather, indications point to another hot spell. Yesterday, the maximum temperature was recorded at 82, but seemed much warmer, due to the humidity of the atmosphere, following the rain.

Pa Newc has heard a large number of favorable comments since the announcement of the campaign for better railroad stations. Sentiment expressed is that the present stations should not be tolerated.

Everything seems to have settled back to normal since the Fourth. Outside of the few who were unfortunate enough to be in accidents, bad cases of sun burn seem to be the biggest memories of the day.

The Newc family noticed one home which still had its flags up today. It is believed that the family was away and had not returned since the Fourth. No other reason can be forwarded for the flags unless it might be carelessness.

ROCKEFELLER PLANS QUIET CELEBRATION FOR 90TH BIRTHDAY

physical condition today as he was at seventy.

For years, this famous man's routine of life has varied but little. He arises about seven a. m., has a leisurely breakfast, rests and then plays golf. Then follows a shower, another rest, luncheon and then a motor ride. He has dinner about 6 p. m., reads for awhile and retires about 9 or 10 p. m.

Rockefeller spends the winter in Florida, where the weather permits winter golf, the spring at Lakewood, N. J., and the summer at Tarrytown. He never reveals his golf score, but this writer, who went around with him on the links at Ormond beach, can say with authority that John D. shoots a pretty good game. If I recall correctly, he is about as good as the average business man. He is particularly good with the spoon and the putter. His second shots are something to write home about.

Rockefeller was born July 8, 1839, at Richmond, Tioga county, N. Y., the son of a farmer-doctor of moderate circumstances. At 20 he had saved $1,000, borrowed $1,000 from his father and bought into a partnership of a Cleveland, O., produce firm. At 30 he had made considerable money and bought out the partners in an oil refining business for $73,500. This was his start in building up a fortune that caused him to be known for years as "the richest man in the world."

John D. is a kindly, friendly old soul, quite generous with his dimes. His younger sons have as souvenirs two of his shiny earrings and the oil king has put many thousands of other dimes into circulation. He is best known at present as a benefactor and it is estimated that he has given away to worthy causes more than $500,000,000.

NEW ENDURANCE RECORD IS SET BY CLEVELAND PAIR

months ago by Reginald Robbins and James Kelly. At 12:10:50 this morning they officially set the new record.

Under National Aeronautical Association rules there must be at least one hour's difference between an old record and a new in order for the latter to be recognized.

The endurance plane received its last refueling at six o'clock last night. At that time the fliers dropped a note which read:

"Motor perfect, everything o. k., a new record is a certainty."

Mitchell, Cleveland-Buffalo air mail pilot, who obtained leave to take part in the flight, paid generous tribute to the engine of the Sinson monoplane in which the record was made.

"Our descent was simply a case of machinery triumphing over man," he declared. "The motor would have been good for many more hours sustained flight, but Newcomb and I were not."

Terrific Physical Strain
Both airmen showed obvious traces of the terrific strain undergone during the seven days they circled above the Cleveland airport, plunging through thunder storms and occupying themselves at frequent intervals with the nerve-racking task of refueling while in flight.

Pushing, jostling and struggling against the ropes thrown up about the airport, a crowd of 75,000 persons set up a deafening cheer as the "City of Cleveland" descended, and the mob made a wild rush to acclaim the fliers. They were held back by police reserves, however, until Mitchell and Newcomb came helped from their plane and rushed into the airport offices for a much needed rest.

Neither flier suffered any permanent ill effect of the long vigil in the air, but both were so nearly exhausted they could scarcely stand alone when they stepped out of the plane.

To the surprise of many, their hearing had not been affected. They said they had no trouble hearing anything that was said to them when they landed, despite the fact that they spent more than a week in the small cabin directly behind the nine-cylinder Wright Whirlwind motor.

The crowd of more than 75,000 persons which had assembled at the airport early last night to watch Newcomb and Mitchell set the new record broke through police lines in place and swarmed out onto the field, making it difficult to escort the men and the plane safely into the protection of the hangar.

Both fliers' wives were on hand to greet them with a big hug and innumerable kisses when they stepped from the plane.

"We are the proudest wives in the world," said Mrs. Mitchell. "Of course, we knew Newc and Mitch would break the record. It certainly is good to have them back safely with us."

Otto Leisy, president of the Stewart Aircraft Company, sponsor of the flight, was so jubilant over the success of his boys that he ran up to them and planted resounding kisses on the cheeks of both fliers.

The flight cost Leisy $4,000 in addition to the cost of the plane.

Byron K. Newcomb, pilot for the Stewart Aircraft Company of Cleveland, and Roy L. Mitchell, air mail pilot whose regular run is from Cleveland to Louisville, Ky., always have been pals since they took up flying.

They first met back in 1919 at Carlstrom field, Florida, and have been closely associated ever since. From Carlstrom field the endurance fliers were transferred to Ellington field, Texas, where they joined the army's first pursuit group.

In 1921 they went to Selfridge field, Mount Clemens, Mich., as master sergeants. There they were put through every trick in the flying game, learning all kinds of stunts and maneuvering.

When in 1923 they moved to Brooks field, Texas, they went there as instructors to serve under State Commander H. E. McClelland at stage "A" of the field. Some of the best fliers today learned the rudiments of aviation from Newcomb and Mitchell there.

One day a tall, lanky youth reported to Brooks field and started out as a raw pilot. It was only by chance that he was turned over to some other instructor. The youth was Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

In 1924, Mitchell became attached to the department of agriculture and for four years thereafter "dusted" cotton from a plane in Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Louisiana. His next job was the one he holds now with the Continental Air Lines as air mail pilot on the Cleveland-Louisville run.

close friend of Mrs. Fee had been released today on $2,500 bail on charges of complicity in the shooting. Conklin's arrest at the same time Mrs. Fee was taken into custody was understood to have been made on strength of the statement that another man had been implicated, although Mrs. Fee at first said the "other man" was a negro burglar.

Conklin had been freed of all charges and suspicion in connection with the shooting. Burchinal announced today.

Both the Conklin and Fee families are prominent in Washington and the near-kinship has caused a sensation. Attorney Burchinal refused today to spread what future course the investigation into the shooting will take.

TAX REDUCTION FORCES WORK TO EXACT BIG CUT

was raised from 75 cents to $3.00. Tickets in the last revenue act, producers are on record with the declaration that absolute freedom from such taxes is necessary to help save the drama from extinction.

Other proposals include revision of the individual income brackets to lower the surtaxes on incomes of $3,000 to $70,000 a year. This proposal of the treasury was accepted by the senate in the last bill but rejected by the house.

Business Interests Active.
Business interests are expected to make a drive for a further cut in the corporation income tax on the ground that corporations are the heaviest taxed groups. In the last tax bill the United Chamber of Commerce urged a cut from 13 1/2 to 10 per cent, the house fixed the tax at 11 1/2 per cent, and in the end the reduction was made to 12 per cent. A two per cent cut would amount to more than approximately $160,000,000 a year.

The treasury has consistently opposed further efforts to raise the exemption to the $3,000 class, pointing out that the tax base has already been so narrowed that only 2,500,000 to 3,000,000 individuals report taxable income. Business and professional classes are insistent upon a demand for a more favorable tax holding that they are much heavier taxed than property.

Although the house was and means committee investigated the possibility of drastic changes in the earned income provisions in 1928, it failed to draft relief for these classes.

Tobacco Heaviest Taxed.
The tobacco business now is admittedly the heaviest taxed business under the federal system. The tobacco taxes yielding over $400,000,000 annually. From 17 to 40 cents out of every dollar spent on cigars's represents tax. Congress, however, has paid little heed to the plea of tobacco interests for reductions.

While capital politicians usually want tax reduction to come just before a presidential campaign, it is pointed out that the Democrats are planning an unusually hard fight in the congressional elections next year. A tax reduction bill, it is held, might offset the gain the Democrats hope to make by attacking the administration tariff and farm policies.

STAR LORE

AN OUTSTANDING STELLAR OBJECT
By Arthur DeV. Carpenter
Early in July the great constellation Scorpius in the south, is at its best. Some call Scorpius the first of the constellations of the zodiac. It makes an almost perfect outline of a scorpion; the two prominent stars in the Balances next west from Scorpius, from the termination of its imaginary claws, while at two hours eastward right ascension his tail flips up with two bright stars forming the stinger. Scorpius is seen far up in the heavens from 40 degrees south of the equator, and is conspicuous. Star Lore has previously mentioned the huge star Antares at the heart of Scorpius.

Steel Bar Mills Planning Merger

ELWOOD, Pa., July 6.—Consolidation of six eastern steel bar mills with a capitalization of $20,000,000 is being planned today following the report of a conference held here recently in which capitalists and officials of the steel mills are believed to have participated.

Although no definite announcements as to the details of the mammoth merger resulted from the conference, it is said on apparently reliable authority that concerns interested in the proposed consolidation are hopeful that final plans will be ironed out and the merger become a reality by September 1.

Plans of the Danville Structural Steel Company, owned by Charles M. Schwab, the Swab Steel Company of Williamsport; Franklin Steel Company of Buffalo, N. Y.; a plant in Syracuse, N. Y.; and one in New England are understood to be interested in the proposed merger.

Of these plants would make the steel bar industry which heretofore has operated as a large number of independent units.

The rumors arose following a visit here July 4 of Charles H. Williams of the Bankers Trust Company of New York, one of the world's largest financial institutions. Williams, it was said, conferred with officials of the Danville and Williamsport Steel plants, the meeting also attended, via long distance telephone, by Charles M. Schwab.

28th Division Troops Arrive At Mt. Gretna

Annual Encampment Of Pennsylvania National Guard Gets Under Way Today

MOST OF DIVISION TO TRAIN TOGETHER

(International News Service) MOUNT GRETTA, Pa., July 6.—Approximately 5,000 officers and men of the Twenty-eighth division, Pennsylvania National Guard, swarmed in an olive drab cloudburst from special trains here today, marking the inauguration of Pennsylvania's largest annual encampment in history.

The units arriving today included the 109th from Scotland, and the 10th from central and southwestern Pennsylvania, comprising the Fifty-fifth Infantry Brigade under the command of Brigadier General Edward Martin, of Washington.

The 10th and the 109th, making up the Fifty-third Field Artillery Brigade commanded by Brigadier General William S. McLean, Jr., of Wilkes-Barre, moved in as Colebrook.

The special troops of the Twenty-eighth division train took over quarters adjoining the infirmary.

That the advance detail entrusted with the task of making quarters, mess halls, company streets and other adjuncts of military life fit for occupancy had performed their duties with efficiency and dispatch was proved when the troops filed from their special trains to find everything in readiness for the 1925 encampment.

The large-scale maneuvers to be held from July 13 to 25, in which approximately 6,000 officers and men of the division will participate, was the sole topic of eager conversation among the men today.

General Pitzer, whose long cherished idea of having virtually the entire division train together has finally reached reality, said today that a meeting of all officers would be called Monday to outline the looked-for accomplishments in this year's program.

Hundred-Billion-Dollar World Bank Looming As Result Of Reparations

Mammoth Financial Institution
Would Handle Reparations Payments

United States, Due To International Commerce, Would Reap Greatest Rewards

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 6.—A hundred-billion-dollar world bank, looming as a financial rock of Gibraltar against all existing financial institutions, may come out of the treasury set up by the allied reparations commission for expanding German reparations payments, it was indicated
here today.

Already hinted at by Thomas D. Lamont, International financier and reparations expert, senator William H. King (D., Utah), today resounded the project as certain to provide world trade and international peace. He said the benefits of such a gigantic world financial institution would be fabulous and that the United States would reap the greatest rewards because of her tremendous international commerce.

Would Grow In Time
The present international bank, just established by the reparations commission, will receive funds from Germany in foreign exchange and in currency and make distributions to the creditor allied nations. Lamont already has hinted that this institution can develop into a real world bank.
"If, in years to come," said Lamont,
"it takes on broader functions, it will be because there is a practical and specific use for it in branches of economic life which are not now served."

Idea Endorsed.
King endorsed the world bank idea
as certain to promote trade expansion throughout the world—and thereby to promote peaceful relations between nations. He pointed out that where the peoples of two nations have peaceful and intimate business relations, war seldom arises.
The possibilities of such a world
bank almost stagger the imagination.
The one thing, said an institution

would act as a clearing house for all the world's commerce. In 1928, world trade probably reached the stupendous total of $87,000,000,000. In ten years, if the current growth of five per cent is continued, the total trade will reach $100,000,000,000.

The interest of American industry and American bankers in such an institution can be appreciated by the fact that the United States did a $9, 000,000,000 volume of business with other nations last year. Within a few years, commerce experts expect it to pass the ten-billion dollar mark. By the time the world's commerce reaches the $100,000,000,000 mark, American trade probably will be $15,000,000,000 a year. The establishment of a world bank to facilitate the exchange of so much commerce, therefore, would be of tremendous benefit to America.

Resolution Offered.
"In 1921," said King, "I offered a resolution in the senate directing President Harding to call a convention of the leading financial nations for the purpose of establishing an international bank and the stabilization of foreign exchange."

"I believe now as then that an international bank would be a sound financial and economic institution. It would handle the settlement of accounts between nations and in the buying and selling of commodities between peoples and make for better relations both economically and politically. I feel the plan suggested by the Young reparations commission should be carried out and a bank with larger powers than indicated
should be established."

"Such a world bank would facilitate the world's trade and promote world peace. The benefits would be tremendous to all nations but the United States would benefit more than any other nation, because of our huge volume of international trade."

"Any agency that will aid trade and bring the business men of various nations together will prove of incalculable benefit in a material way to save nothing of other fields, such as education and culture. Such an agency tends to unify nations, break down barriers and prejudices and destroy the seeds of war. It would be a great step toward real world peace."

W. W. McMillin Out For Council

East Side Man Announces Candidacy For Republican Nomination

W. W. McMILLIN.

To the Voters of the City of New Castle:

I desire in this way to submit my candidate for the office of city council, with the following statement:

I was born and reared on a farm
in South Beaver township, Beaver county, Pa., and received my education in the common schools of the district, taking advanced work in the then noted preparatory schools Greensburg Academy at Darlington,
and Piersall Academy at West Bridgeport. After several years of teaching in the public schools, embarked upon a business career in general merchandising which I have since followed with the exception of a period spent in dairy farming at Shon Valley, Lawrence county. For the last several years have been interested in the grocery business on the East Side, this city. While always keenly interested in civic affairs, I have never aspired to nor held public office; I am not a "politician" as that word is usually applied. I believe that sound business methods can and should be applied to the administration of a public office, and that its duties should be carried out solely for the benefit of the taxpayers and property owners. While improvements must be made when necessary, such should be done without waste of money.

I believe that a public office is a public trust, and that its duties should be administered with the same fidelity and honesty as one would employ in the management of one's own affairs. Complaints and suggestions of any and all citizens are entitled to a courteous and respectful hearing. I will assure a square deal to all to the utmost extent of my ability.
I am a property owner, owning my home at 1008 Beckford street and am a member of the Third United Presbyterian church, serving on one of its official boards. Hoping to merit your favorable consideration at the coming Republican primaries, I am respectfully yours.

Legion Names Delegates For State Session

Gaston Post Selects Representatives To Attend Convention In Scranton

MEETING NIGHT OF POST CHANGED

Delegates and alternates, to attend
the state convention at Scranton, were named by the Perry S. Gaston Post, No. 343, American Legion, at their monthly meeting in the Legion
Home building last evening.

Those selected were: Post Commander, Ivor V. Davis; Dr. H. H. Rosenthal, Pat J. Dempsey, and Bernard Hook. Alternates named were: Guy
Wadlinger, Nick Speed, Harry M.
Long, and John White. The post vote to pay the complete expenses of the delegates, only travelling expenses
having been allowed in the past.

After considerable discussion, the meeting night of the post was changed from the first and third Fridays to the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. This matter has been up for discussion on several different occasions previously.

Report of the activities of the boy scout and Junior baseball committees, was rendered by general chairman, Dr. H. H. Rosenthal, showing that the committees have become organized and are hard at work on these two projects.

The next meeting of the post will occur on Tuesday, Aug. 13, under the change in meeting nights.

BARGE ROUTE IS CONSIDERED

Youngstown Joins Move To Improve Mahoning To Ohio

YOUNGSTOWN, July 6.—Industries of the Mahoning valley are deeply interested in efforts launched by Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls and New Castle interests to obtain water transportation for the steel industry in these districts via the Mahoning and Beaver rivers to the Ohio river at its junction with the Beaver. The plan is to "back water" the two rivers
by means of locks and dams, making possible the passage of modern river barges.

The savings to be thus effected in transportation of coal alone from Pennsylvania to the industries at Youngstown will be sufficient, in the estimate of Youngstown financiers,
to warrant the project.

Col. J. P. Leaf of Beaver Falls heads the plan and legislation has already been introduced in Congress to authorize the necessary surveys.

Raid Speakeasies Near Air Fields

Authorities Act As Report Shows Stultz Was Drunk When He Crashed

NEW YORK, July 6.—Authorities
were clearing out all speakeasies adjacent to aviation fields here Friday
when an investigation revealed Wilmer Stultz, trans-Atlantic pilot, was intoxicated at the time of his fatal
crash near Roosevelt field Monday.

According to the report of Dr.
Alexander O. Gettler, city toxicologist, an examination showed "a large amount of alcohol" present in Stultz's brain and stomach. Assistant District Attorney Philip Huntington immediately began an investigation to determine how Stultz took off in an airplane when he was drunk.

Two passengers in the plane were also killed when Stultz went aloft to perform stunts.

Huntington admitted he was seeking to learn who sold Stultz the liquor and also whether any air official was responsible for permitting
the noted pilot to take two passengers up in his ship while he was under the influence of liquor.

"Roosevelt field officials are doing everything in their power to co-operate with us in meeting squarely a problem of great importance to aviation," Huntington said. "The aviation industry is far more important than the misfortune of any individual tragic through that misfortune may be."

Stultz was a free lance pilot employed by a private individual. He was not employed by officials of the aviation field, who had no control over him except in requiring him to comply with field rules.

According to reports, officials of the Department of Commerce in Washington are preparing to launch an investigation of their own.

Ohio Couple Back From Nepal Visit

Relate Experiences In Land High
In Himalayas; Guests
Of Royalty

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 6.—Dr.
and Mrs. Charles E. Blanchard of Poland, near here, have returned from a two-month sojourn in Nepal, one of the strangest countries in the world,
and relate some interesting experiences they encountered while there.

They are among the very few Americans to visit this hermit country, high up atop the Himalaya mountains, near Mount Everest.

Dr. Blanchard went to Nepal to minister to the health of the ruler of the strange little country.

While there they were guests at a royal reception tendered them by the maharajah, and returned to their home with a quantity of rich gifts bestowed upon them.

They were supplied with a bodyguard of two soldiers each while they sojourned in Nepal and each soldier was armed with an immense knife to protect his charge. Servants were provided, the luxurious automobile
of the ruler was at their disposal,
his coat of arms upon it providing them
ample protection, and two Tibetan ponies were provided them for travel in the mountains.

The customs pertaining to women were deemed by Mrs. Blanchard.

"The women of Nepal live in a purdah, they are shut away from the world and never leave their homes," she declared.

The Blanchards found crime scarce,
they declared. When a man is jailed he is taught a valuable trade and is released as a finished craftsman.

Palaces in Nepal, they said, are as magnificent as those of Versailles or Buenos Aires.

Among the gifts showered upon the Americans were bracelets and pins of pure gold, set with Nepal coins and gems; Tibetan rugs; goat hair blankets and shawls; ivory beds, carved wooden boxes, a copper tea pot trimmed with gold, silver and turquoise and topped with a Tibetan prayer-wheel in silver; images, prayer gates in miniature and numerous other trinkets of great value.

Only by the "2 Successive Suds" WASHING METHOD

- 1 Even for a small washing the Dexter "Fastwin" saves loading at least one tub of water, and saves time and effort, as compared with one single-tub washer properly used.
- 2 The Dexter "Fastwin" can wash properly at least twice as much clothing per hour (including all operations from hamper to line) as any single-tub washer made.
- 3 Only by the "2 suds" washing method (which is thoroughly convenient only with the Dexter "Fastwin"), can that grayish tinge and that "starch feel" be kept out of clothes month after month, without re-washing or boiling.
- 4 The Dexter "Fastwin" thus offers a very substantial and easily demonstrated advantage over any single-tub washer that is, or ever can be built—even though the Dexter Company builds the finest of single-tub washers, also.
- 5 Builders of fine washers for more than a quarter century, the Dexter Company originate the double-tub type of washer 16 years ago, and the first one ever made is still in weekly use.
- 6 More than 100,000 delighted users say they never knew any more single-tub washer.

is it thoroughly convenient to keep "that all-over grayish tinge" out of clothes permanently.

And only with the sensational new

Flight To Rome Again Delayed

Unfavorable Weather Conditions Again Detain Flight To Rome By Pathfinder

(International News Service)

OLD ORCHARD, Me., July 6.—Whipped into furores by cross-winds, unfavorable condition of the beach here today forced postponement of the projected flight to Rome by Roger Williams and Captain Lewis Yancey in the Monoplane "Pathfinder."

With their giant plane all fueled and ready for the start an examination of the beach at 4 o'clock this morning revealed that a takeoff under present conditions could not possibly be successful and reluctantly Williams and Yancey admitted that the start would have to go over for 12 hours at least.

The airmen retired late last night after giving the Pathfinder a final inspection and with perfect weather conditions prevailing announced all in readiness for the start this morning. They left word to be called at 4 a. m. in the hope of starting at 5.

The REFRIGERATOR that says "LEASE THIS APARTMENT"

WHAT sort of refrigeration has this apartment? That's one of the major questions which instantly flashes into every woman's mind. The General Electric with its quiet, trouble-free, sealed-in mechanism and its remarkable all-steel cabinet, has put the signature on many a lease.

You may wonder why it is so often said that the General Electric Refrigerator is particularly good for apartments. It operates independently—each tenant has complete control over his own machine. He defrosts it or regulates the temperature when it suits his convenience. No action of another tenant, or of the superintendent, interferes with his service.

Local Youths Start Work At Training Camps

Month's Tour Of Citizens
Training Camps Started
Today

BECOME SOLDIERS
IN FEW HOURS' TIME

BALTIMORE, Md., July 6.—Approximately forty-five men from Lancaster county today began a month's vacation as members of the Citizens' Military Training camps at Fort Washington and Hoxie, Maryland, and Fort Monroe and Myer, Va. Healthful exercises, instruction in citizenship, hygiene and military training, all furnished free by the government, will be part of each day's activities for the next 30 days.

On arrival these men underwent a physical examination similar to the high medical tests required of soldiers in the regular army. Those who successfully passed the score of doctors proudly turned to the work of storing their "rifles" and securing complete uniforms. The few men who received rejection slips proved real soldiers by keeping stiff upper lips as they returned to their homes. Letters will be sent to the parents of those rejected men giving the reasons for this rejection and making suggestions regarding its correction. These men thus benefit by this brief military experience and many will enjoy camp life in succeeding years.

In several hours the men had changed from civilians to soldiers and had been assigned to temporary units which, during the month's training, will be supervised by expert regular army officers and commanded by members of the officers' reserve corps. The most welcome station in the "procession" which is the technical name for the numerous operations necessary to receive a civilian into the army, was the paymaster's desk where the men were reimbursed for their travel from their home towns at the rate of five cents a mile. This meant spending money for an occasional extra ice cream, movie show, or educational sightseeing trip while many accepted the suggestion of the chaplain that he act as banker for any surplus funds.

Major General Fred W. Sladen, commanding general of the Third corps area, issued a welcoming address which emphasized the added enthusiasm apparent each year among the incoming men. "In coming to the citizens' military training camp you have accepted a definite opportunity," he said, "to gain a finer conception of citizenship. You will improve in health. You will learn the value of team work, have a better understanding of our government, and be ready to fulfill the obligations of citizenship in time of emergency. You will understand the need of self-discipline and co-operation; the necessity for law and order and the wisdom of right living."

"The youth of today has almost unlimited liberty and opportunity, so be certain to use your liberty wisely and discreetly. Responsibility never fails to stimulate the highest type of manhood and develops the leaders for civilian and governmental occupations. Tomorrow, the leadership of our country will be in your hands; therefore, train yourselves for this responsibility and make full use of your opportunities."

Good Races Held At Mercer On Fourth

Many Visitors Present From Out Of Town Points; Other
Notes Of Interest

MERCER, Pa., July 6.—The horse races held here on the Fourth by the racing association were a decided success. The races were very good, with each class well filled. In the 2:15 record here for that event, going the mile in 2:09 3-4. The 2:24 pace was rather unique, all the horses in the race being Peterkin horses. This race was won by J. C. Moon of Mercer, this being the only race of the day that one horse won three heats.

There was a good crowd there early in the afternoon, 1,000 paid admissions in the grandstand being recorded. The weather conditions were good and the track was in fine shape.

WARNS DRIVERS
The authorities believe that the announcement by Judge McLaughry as to his attitude toward intoxicated drivers will have a tendency to reduce this sort of crime in Mercer county. The court told those before him for sentence that he would use the new law after this and everyone will be treated alike.

Judge McLaughry considers this offense one of the greatest menaces on the highway.

NO ACCIDENTS
Mercer was very fortunate in not having any accidents over the Fourth and there were no accident victims brought to the Mercer Cottage hospital. There were no casualties from fireworks here, either, and there seemed to be plenty of them.

WORK COMPLETED
The work on the storm sewers in South Erie street has been completed from the borough limits to West Beaver street. The work is being done by local labor. When the paving of McKinley avenue is started local labor will also be employed.

Contractor Paul Thompson has secured Andy Narlee to take charge of the construction of the street. Mr. Narlee has had years' experience at this work and is rated among the best.

Ivorites Further Plans For Coming Convention Here

Star Of Wales Lodge Holds Interesting meeting; Other
News Of Welsh
People

(By WILLIAM A. JOHNS, BRYTON)
Star of Wales Lodge, True Ivorites of America, held a fine meeting Saturday evening, which was largely attended, with the president, Thomas Frey in charge.

An interesting letter was read from the Union lodge.

The sick committee reported the following sick brethren: Samuel Francis, John Jones, Ed. Gibbon, William C. Lewis, Griffith M. Jones and Thomas Perrott. The subject of "Truth" was discussed and some fine talks were given.

Preparations for the coming convention next month were furthered at this meeting. The convention will be held in the Congregational church, under the auspices of Martha Lodge.

Members of the Powell family held their reunion on the Fourth in a nearby rural spot, and a very happy time was spent in games and singing. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Harry Powell, Martha, Dorothy, and May Powell.

Brython had a birthday on July 2, and among the many letters and cards of congratulation, was a special delivery letter from his son, Prof. Richard E. Jones of the Pennsylvania R. R., wishing him on behalf of the family, a happy birthday.

A very successful convention was held at Detroit, Mich., by the Women's Welsh Clubs of America. Mrs. John Evans of Mill street was a great help with the singing. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. H. C. Vaughn, Lakewood, O.; vice president, Mrs. John P. Piesch, Columbus, O.; Secretary, Mrs. H. P. Duedel, Philadelphia, second vice president, A. L. Agate, Elyria, O.; financial secretary, Mrs. Erskine Maiden, Youngstown, O.; treasurer, Mrs. Herbert Payne, Detroit; Organizer, Mrs. Frank Wirth, Canton, Ohio.

The convention closed with a grand banquet. There were 300 people present.

Plans have been completed by the Welsh people of Youngstown, O., for their annual reunion, which will be held at Idora Park on Wednesday, August 21. The program of the day will include sports, and a great Welsh Sing, under the leadership of some of the best singers of Youngstown and other cities.

Friends in this city will be glad to hear of the success of Prof. T. Herbert Davies and his choir of Youngstown, who were victorious at the Akron Bistedford. Prof. Davies is well known in this city, and is a close friend of Mrs. John Evans of South Mill street. He is a sister of Mrs. Henry Badger of Cleveland, formerly of New Castle.

Sad news comes of the death of the veteran Welshman, David H. Davies, aged 83, who passed away last week, at his home, 180 E. Lucius avenue, Youngstown. He was born at Llanelli, South Wales, and came to this country about sixty years ago. He had spent his entire life in Youngstown, where he was employed with the Carnegie Steel Co. He was widely known all over the United States. A brother, Leveley of Greenville is the father of Mrs. George Parsons, formerly of this city.

Planning Gold Star Pilgrimage Overseas

Some New Castle And Lawrence County Mothers To Make Trip To France

Congress Prepares Way For Pilgrimage To Heroes' Last Resting Places

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 6.—Each man, poor man, became man, whether they were the sons of the nation or the children of the world, if they died in the service of their country and were buried in cemeteries in Europe, they left behind them a heritage of honor which entitles their mothers and widows to make a pilgrimage to their cross-marked graves in foreign lands.

Such was the decision reached by congress last March, and as a result long caravans of gold star mothers and widows will begin their journey across land and sea next May to the cemeteries in Europe where thousands of white crosses mark the resting places of the youth of the country who fell in the service of the army and navy.

Already the first preparations for these pilgrimages are being conducted by war and navy officials, and soon an announcement will be made of how many mothers and widows of New Castle will be privileged to go abroad at the expense of the government to these foreign cemeteries where rest the remains of the soldiers and sailors who "went west".

Already a number of congressmen have signed their intentions of arranging for the pilgrimages of the mothers and widows in their respective districts. The first pilgrimage will not begin until the first of next

May, but it is pointed out that the applicants for the pilgrimage privileges will be provided for in order of their request, and that those who make known their wishes to visit the cemeteries will be the first to be cared for.

These mothers and widows will be sent abroad under the provisions of the bill passed by congress last session authorizing the secretary of war to arrange for pilgrimages to cemeteries in Europe by mothers and widows of members of the military or naval forces of the United States who died in the service between April 3, 1917, and July 1, 1921, and whose remains are now interred in such cemeteries. The pilgrimages will begin May 1, 1930, and extend to October 31, 1933, the definite dates to be established by the war secretary.

Each mother and unmarried widow who has never visited the cemeteries shall be entitled to make one of the pilgrimages at the expense of the government.

The government will pay all expenses of the members of the pilgrimages during the complete journey over land and sea and during the sojourn in Europe. No mother or widow, however, shall be provided for by the government for a period longer than two weeks from the time of disembarkation in Europe to the time of re-embarkation for home.

Special passports, free of charge, will be issued by the government to the mothers and widows making the pilgrimages and to such persons as may be selected to accompany and arrange for the pilgrimages. If the mothers and widows were aliens, suitable travel documents will be issued without fee, and such alien mothers and widows will be permitted to re-enter this country without regard to immigration laws.

These caravans of those who have sons and husbands will be democratic affairs, with the most aristocratic of Boston receiving the same care and attention accorded the simple country folk from the quiet hills of Vermont. For the act of congress specifically prohibits the granting of special privilege to any member of a pilgrimage through the payment of money offered by or for that member.

The mothers and widows will be carried on the seas by vessels belonging to the government, cabin-class accommodations being furnished for all transportation.

Suitable transportation, accommodations, meals and other necessities shall also be furnished each mother and widow at the expense of the government during the land travel in this country and in Europe.

Not later than December 15 of the present year the secretary of war will report to congress the number of widows and mothers entitled to make the pilgrimages, the number of such gold star persons desirous of making the pilgrimages, and the probable cost of the pilgrimages to be made.

Such is provided for by the act of congress passed last session. And it is this provision which would suggest to mothers and widows wishing to visit the cemeteries that they make known their desire to their congressional representatives or to war department officials in the very near future.

Tax Old-Timers Paid Heavier Than That For Gasoline

HARRISBURG, July 6.—Pennsylvania users of gasoline are now paying a tax of four cents per gallon, but Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Benjamin G. Eynon today pointed out that a generation ago road-users paid far heavier taxes with benefits so slight as to be in the negligible class.

"In 1929," he said, "a tax of four cents per gallon means approximately $12 per year for the average motor car owners. Some will pay more and some less, but that is the average. So recently as 1918 and 1917 persons who drove from Harrisburg to Philadelphia and return, via Reading and Lancaster, paid the tollages nearly $3 for the round trip. That was $3 for the doubtful pleasure of bumping over ruts and holes and hummocks whose presence in the road was masked by the dense clouds of dust which rose from the ragged stone surfacing."

The four-cent gasoline tax will be in force only 12 months, thereafter it will revert to three cents.

Need 3000 Pages For Pamphlet Laws

HARRISBURG, July 6.—The 1929 pamphlet laws will be one volume containing approximately 3000 pages. John C. Light, director of publications, today announced. The volume will be 900 pages larger than any former issue. The three codes passed by the last legislature alone comprise 1,000 pages.

The volume will not be ready for printing for a month or six weeks, Light said. Thirty thousand copies will be printed.

Schmeling Anxious To Fight Jack Dempsey

Hopes Jack Does Not Change Mind

Says Former World's Champion Should Issue No More Challenges

DOES NOT WANT TO BATTLE UNDER BULOW

Max Schmeling, the German heavyweight boxer, was very busy today, being busy with his training and preparing for his fight with Jack Dempsey on July 10 at the Madison Square Garden, New York.

Max Schmeling, the German heavyweight boxer, was very busy today, being busy with his training and preparing for his fight with Jack Dempsey on July 10 at the Madison Square Garden, New York. Schmeling has declared himself to the effect that not only was he accepting Dempsey's challenge but, in fact, was challenging Dempsey to accept his acceptance, as it were, or was of both. He seemed to fear that "Mr. Dempsey" as he called him, was taking just for the sake of being his adversary a good, fast worker.

In brief, the German says he hopes that Dempsey, threat to return to the ring, turns out to be a definite promise. He apparently had been informed that Jack, holding him in high regard, even, had wanted Schmeling for his very own, for he has been to observe today by waving his rights in the matter of naming time, place and the number of rounds. I may be mistaken but it seemed to me that the German wished to give the impression that he didn't care for "Mr. Dempsey" in a big, selfish way.

Wants To Meet Jack. "I informed Mr. Dempsey once that I was ready to meet him anywhere and at any time," Schmeling explained. "That was my challenge to him and it was an official one, for I made it in writing and signed my name to it. It is he now who is challenging me, that is good, as it not only for them but should not for me. I will make no official offer at the time or the place or the conditions, just as I am prepared to meet Sharkey any place where our fight can be conducted. If the boxing commission in New York will not allow me to fight Dempsey and Sharkey until I fulfill a contract made for me by an authorized agent, then I shall fight them anywhere that is acceptable to them.

"But Mr. Dempsey should waste no further time with challenges. I am happy to accept all of them."

The "unauthorized man" referred to is Arthur Bulow, his discarded manager, who signed Schmeling to be fought by Dempsey. Schmeling added, "to my reply, I told him that he should be the last man to ask any fighter to obey the contract of a manager with whom he did not wish to be associated."

This evidently struck home, as I wished it to do. In the same message, I told him I was ready to fight him any where and at any time and for anybody.

"Mr. Dempsey may change his mind, but I have not changed mine and will not to do so. He is the one man in the world I prefer as an opponent."

But how can the good have a dry and pious magazine when its publisher also prints a very wet one?

Wurtemburg Road Is Scene Of Two Auto Accidents

Cars In Both Mishaps On Friday Night Are Very Slightly Damaged

ELLWOOD CITY, July 6.—Two slight accidents occurred on the Wurtemburg road last night. A car driven by John Baker was going east and signaled to the car back of him that he was going to make a left turn. Floyd Erhart, driver of the car following Mr. Baker, claims that he did not signal soon enough and Erhart's car bumped Baker's car, bending the fender and pushing the car into another car that was parked along the road. No serious damage resulted. A car driven by M. McMichael coming toward Ellwood City on the Wurtemburg road and one driven by Ira Kerr going east came together. Both drivers were going to make a left turn when the accident occurred.

Council Has Meeting; Passes Ordinances

Ordinance For Paving Wampum Avenue Passed Over Veto Of Burgess

ELLWOOD CITY, July 6.—The regular monthly meeting of the Borough council was held last evening in the city building. The meeting was postponed from Thursday night, the regular meeting night, owing to it falling on the Fourth.

The ordinance for paving Wampum avenue from the end of the Fifth street bridge to connect with the New Castle road was passed over the veto of Burgess Evans.

An ordinance prohibiting all night parking on paved or hard surfaced streets in the Borough and a penalty for violation was passed on final reading.

An ordinance relocating the west curb line of South Eleventh street from Border avenue to Wayne avenue so as to widen the roadway on the said portion of South Eleventh street, by extending the same to the west curb line of the street was passed.

An ordinance providing the paving of Sixth street from Franklin avenue to the North property line of Division avenue and assessing two-thirds of the cost to the property abutting the said street was passed on final reading.

A letter was received from the school board requesting the Borough to pay them for the Central school building as they were in need of funds. This fund is not due until December 31st, 1931, but the board stated that they were willing to pay a fair rate of interest for the money.

It was recommended that the Borough Manager enter into a contract whereby the electric line and appliances in Ewing Park should be purchased from the Shelby Land company, since annexing it to the Borough, these lines had been put in by the Shelby Land Company.

Rockefeller Turns Ninety Years

BORN—July 8, 1839, at Richford, Tioga County, N. Y. Son of farmer-doctor in moderate circumstances.

TEN—Tracks turkey hen to stolen nest, recovers chicks, sells them in Fall. Puts out first $50 savings at interest.

TWENTY—Had saved $1,000, borrowed $1,000 from his father and bought partnership in produce firm of Clark & Rockefeller, at Cleveland, Ohio.

THIRTY—Had bought out partner in oil refining business for $72,500.

Frankie Rio turned in an impressive victory at Clevelon on the Fourth of July, when he headed U. S. Carpenter, a neat boxer in a 10-round match. According to reports, Rio and Carpenter on the floor in the second round and punched him severely during some of the other rounds.

The case of Rio is unique. Somewhere or other, whenever he finds time to do some work, he has the leverage in his pocket. This is probably due to the fact that he is able to put his body in his blows and he boxes at long range. He is a splendid boxer and for that reason ought to be able to hit like a gladiator.

U. S. Carpenter was scheduled to fight Harry Crisp at Clevelon Tuesday night, but he was so badly remarked that he will not box Crisp, who is a terrific puncher. Harry made short work of Frankie Sunday at Clevelon Lake and Referee Eddie Kennedy stopped the bout in the sixth round.

It looks as though Henry Firpo will box some good ones here one week from Monday night. Jack McKenna, who not only knocked down Firpo for a count of nine, but received a draw at Clevelon, is clamoring for the go. McKenna has said some things about Firpo that sounds as though he believes he can roll Firpo for a defeat.

McKenna is a newcomer in the States. He is a Canadian and was introduced to a Cleveland ring by Eddie Mead, who formerly managed Joe Lynch, the bantamweight champion. Firpo stopped Lee Meredith at Clevelon Lake, but Meredith doesn't begin to compare with McKenna in ability.

Pistichius is a funny business. Elmo had Chuck Taggart on the floor five times at Butler, then became exhausted for lack of condition and lost. Mame Brown wanted to Butler and Taggart, dumped him second time and the fight came to an end in the second. Mame is young, husky and can hit, but the dope was upset at Butler.

Hack Wilson, the Chicago home run chucker and who hails from Ellwood City, must have received a few lessons in punch from Emmert Rocco. During the fight he was hit by the Red and it looks as though he will draw a suspension. Bruno claim that Hack was justified, as he was called unpleasant names.

Jeey Goodman and Maxie Strub will not fight at Clevelon here or any other place, as Goodman cannot go less than 135 and Strub has turned down the bout. Tony Herrera may not meet Maxie, as his manager has hinted that Maxie is too tall. Herrera will return here, but the date is not settled.

Gilbert Hall, South Orange, sprang a surprise in the quarter finals of the National Clay court tennis courtney at Indianapolis. He defeated Fritz Mercer of Bethlehem, Pa. 7-5, 4-6, 8-4, 7-5. Mercer is the seventh ranking player of the U. S. lawn tennis association. Emmert Para, Chicago, defeated Herbert Bowman, New York, 7-5, 7-5, 5-2.

Helen Willis defeated Helen Jacobs, 6-1, 8-2 in the all-American final of the women's singles at Wimbledon yesterday and is now numbered among the three-champions. Miss Willis led all the way with the exception of the first game in the first set and was never in danger. Fifteen thousand witnessed the contest between the two Helens.

Rescues Small Boy From Lake Drowning

A small five-year-old boy, son of some campers at Lakeside Beach, near East Brook, is living today through the quick action of Fred Set, well-known electrician and radio salesman of this city, last night at the lake of that resort.

While the parents of the little boy were out boating last night, he was busy playing with a small boat in the shallow water of the lake near the lake. The boat got away from the little fellow and he went after it, getting beyond his depth and sliding down into the deeper water.

He had gone down three times when screams of witnesses of the unfortunate occurrence attracted the attention of Mr. Set, and he plunged into the water without removing his clothing and grasping hold of the little fellow brought him safely to the bank.

A little first aid work and the little boy was all right.

Endurance Aviators Give Sidelights On Breaking Of Record

Rode Severe Storm With Great Peril, But Never Considered Landing

Sleep Was Almost Impossible
On Plane; Will Be Given
City Reception Soon

By CARL TURNER
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

AIRPORT, Cleveland, O., July 6.—Despite exhaustion Byron K. Newcomb and Roy I. Mitchell were in high spirits when they landed early today after setting a new endurance record. They joked with each other about incidents that occurred during the flight.

"Mitch was the dirty pilot," Newcomb told International News Service. "I took a bath aboard the plane every day we were in the air, but Mitch didn't take a bath once." And Mitchell didn't deny it.

Newcomb said they were shocked by news of the death of their friend Walter Robery, young air mail pilot who was killed last Sunday morning when his plane crashed in the fog near Columbus.

"We felt pretty badly about it," said Newcomb. "Robery was a fine pilot and a chap worth knowing."

Saddened By Death
News of Robery's death was kept from the fliers until last Tuesday when they insisted that newspapers, which they had not seen since Sunday, be sent aboard.

Floyd Logan, president of the Cleveland chapter of the American Aeronautical Association, said after the flight that the endurance test clearly proved that present day construction of engines and planes is superior to the physical endurance of man.

"Taking it all in all," said Logan, "weather conditions during the flight were far from normal and I think that Newcomb and Mitchell made a wonderful record considering the difficulties they had to surmount.

Will Get Reception
Mitchell and Newcomb were sworn by their long flight that they were in no condition to undergo questioning at any great length until after they had rested. Soon after landing they were hustled into an automobile and taken to a downtown hotel, where later they will be given the city's official reception.

They were questioned briefly about the terrific thunderstorm they rode out the night before they landed, a storm which grounded the first refueling plane and but for the skill of refueling Don Ernest Basham would have resulted in serious injury to the three men of the refueling crew.

Never Considered Landing
"We didn't once consider landing," said Mitchell. "We were so near our goal then that we simply couldn't let thought of failure enter our minds."

We put the tanks and won out. It was one of the worst rainstorms I have ever encountered while in the air."

Mitchell said that neither he nor Newcomb got much sleep during the flight. The small bunk in the "City of Cleveland" was on the floor just back of the motor and the continual roar of the engine made sleep next to impossible even had they cared to try.

Eddie Stinson, designer of the City of Cleveland, examined the plane immediately upon its descent. He found that the gasles in its fuselage which on several occasions it was feared might cause failure of the flight, were merely small holes of no consequence.

"The plane could have gone on indefinitely," said Stinson and the fliers needed no encouragement with him. The motor never missed firing once, they said.

Plan Opening Of McGill Playground

Equipment To Be Set Up There
Until Washington Grounds
Are Graded

Arrangements for the opening of a new playground at the Arthur McGill school on Albert street have been completed and it is now anticipated by the city playground authorities that everything will be in readiness so that the children might inaugurate the new grounds in ten days at least.

At a recent meeting of the recreation board the playground supervisor was authorized to purchase apparatus for the opening. In accordance with that action six baby chair swings, six regular swings, four seesaws and a 16-foot slide was purchased. The new equipment will be at the McGill location until the completion of the grading work at George Washington school, nearby where it is expected a permanent playground will be located.

Record Attempt

(International News Service)
CULVER CITY, Cal., July 6.—Still going strong the Buell Air Sedan, piloted by R. B. Reinhardt and Loren Mendell, continued to hover over the airport here today in its assault upon the newly-established world's record of 174 hours and 59 minutes for sustained flying.

At 6 a. m. the plane had been aloft 94 hours. All through the night the little plane circled over the field, its motor running perfectly. Another mid-air refueling was scheduled for 8:30 a. m. today.

Probe Alleged Check Cashing

Luther Callaway and Robert McNeal, arrested last night by Moore and Kennedy, are being held at the police station, pending the further investigation of their alleged parts in the filling out and cashing of checks of the New Castle Cider and Concrete Block Co. rear 323 South Mill street.

Callaway was arrested while trying to cash one of these checks for $50 at the Marlin store on South Jefferson street. Police say he implicated his uncle McNeal and he was arrested at Sienega street, where he was waiting for Callaway. It is said that another of these checks for $42.50 has already been cashed at the Reider Clothing Company store.

The police were notified by Herman Buchner, proprietor of the Block company, who had been called by Mr. Marlin, who became suspicious, when the check was presented after a purchase had been made. The officers were detailed and arrested Callaway and then McNeal.

Mr. Buchner informed the police that five blank checks of the company had been stolen recently. McNeal worked for a few days at the block works.

Accident Cause Of Damage Suit

Suit was started today by Arthur Williams, a minor, by his parents Mary Perschka and Julius Perschka, and by Julius Perschka in his own right, against Frank P. Gorley of this city for a total of $15,410.00 for personal injuries and property damage.

The suit alleges that on July 19, 1928, the defendant was driving his car in a reckless manner in West Middlesex and that the car of the plaintiffs was overturned, injuring William and Perschka.

Williams asks for $5050.00 and Perschka $10,360.00.

Warner Tells Of His First Nickelodeon Venture Here

PITTSBURGH, July 6.—Harry M. Warner, president of Warner Brothers pictures, incorporated, controlling 400 theaters in the country was inspired to be a theater owner while working as a suit salesman in Kaufmann's department store here in 1902.

"I looked across the street and could see the nickels rolling in at Harry Davis' nickelodeon," he said today, while in Pittsburgh inspecting operations of the company.

The movie magnate came to Pittsburgh in 1902 from Youngstown, O., and went to work at Kaufmann's. Later he worked as a clerk and a cigar salesman for Price and Lucas. Then his first theater experience was with the old "Cascade" theater in New Castle, Pa.

"It was a queer affair," Warner said. "We used a salt herring barrel filled with wet salt for a rheostat and my brother Sam, the family projection-

Averring that the defendants have no certificate of public convenience from the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission, the Keglar Air Transport company and the New Castle Aircraft jointly asked for an injunction restraining the Tri-Motor Air Tours, C. L. McMullen, C. M. Wood, T. B. Ward and M. Vansburg, from operating the tri-motor plane which was brought to the McMullen field on the Harlanburg road some days ago.

While the preliminary injunction was brought late in the afternoon of July 3, for the purpose of restraining the defendants from operating on July 4, for profit, the petition asks that the restraining order be made permanent. A hearing has been set for July 8.

Advices On Care Of Tennis Courts

Good Treatment Required If Boyles Courts Are To Be
First Class

Tennis players using the new city courts in Boyles field should always use soft-soled tennis shoes or "sneakers," it is announced at the office of city playground supervisor. Other advice as to the use of them was given so that each may be kept in first class condition throughout the summer months.

"The last player loosing using a court should loosen the net, for this precaution will lessen breakage if rain should fall. Do not lean on the wire. Nothing is more unsightly than ugly wire. Replace all tennis staples that have been loosened."

The supervisor believes that by observing the above rules, playing will be made more enjoyable for all who use the courts.

No Hearing In Injunction Case

Because of the absence of Attorney Clyde Gibson, the injunction hearing scheduled for this morning before Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand was continued until July 13.

The injunction was one granted against Daisy Kierker Lewis, restraining her from interfering with the funeral of John Brothers and ordering her to vacate the property at 1007 Delaware avenue.

While an answer has been filed in the case, it appears doubtful that it will come to a final hearing inasmuch as the preliminary injunction accomplished the purpose.

Report Pardon Given Phillips

Word has been received here of the pardon of Roy Phillips, who was sentenced to the Western Penitentiary in December, 1920, for the murder of J. C. Abraham.

With two women and Abraham, Phillips went out on a joy ride to a spot on a road running out from the Wilmington road. A fight ensued between the two men in which Abraham was killed. Phillips pleaded guilty to second degree murder and was sentenced to not less than 12 nor more than 15 years in the Western Penitentiary.

Veterans Visit Youngstown Post

Eight members of the Harry L. McElrath Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, journeyed to Youngstown last evening, where they visited the Youngstown post in the interests of the coming picnic sponsored by the post, which will be held at Cascade park on July 10.

They were given a fine reception by the members of the post, and a large delegation of Youngstown vets promised to attend the picnic next week.
